Let's Talk!

Off. 286-2882 Res. 286-4062

Monday, January 16, 1995

Minden welcomed its newest resident early this year. Jordan William Howe increased the population by one when he was born January 3 at 9 p.m., at Civic Hospital in Peterborough. Weighing in at 8 lb, 7 oz., Jordan is the son of Jeff Howe and Tracey Farrell of Minden. Jordan is a brother to Brittany, The first baby born in Haliburton County arrived January 13 at the Haliburton Hospital. The new arrival is a daughter for Sandra Trumbull and Dan Pottier of Minden.

AHM-Dysart meeting

Councils vow to work together for common good

Andrew Milne

The newly elected councils of the two most populous municipalities in Haliburton County met January 9 to discuss issues of common ground and cooperation. Road maintenance, fire protection, and health care were among the items discussed at this closed meeting.

The councillors for Anson Hindon and Minden and for Dysart et al met following Dysart's regular council meeting in Haliburton. Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Jeanne Anthon says the meeting went well. That assessment was echoed by Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey.

"The reeve of Dysart and myself had talked during the election and agreed it was critical that Minden and Dysart work together for the interests of the communities and county," said Anthon. "It was obvious that if there was a perception we couldn't work together, then the rest of the county wouldn't either. So they initiated the invitation and we welcomed the opportunity. We hope, in turn, to have them back fairly soon."

"We share a lot of common concerns and we were able to discuss them," said Fearrey. "We covered a wide range of subjects — nothing in any detail and with no finalization. We have areas in which maybe we can work together. The discussion covered a range of municipal subjects like fire coverage and roads."

Both reeves said the meeting was held to get to know each other and explore areas which would benefit from cooperation. Both groups expressed the hope the councils will meet again in the near future.

"There's an indication," said Fearrey, "that the things that were discussed — and I won't make those public — are being considered by both parties. We hope to meet again. It was very positive in my view."

"The discussion was very general," said Anthon, "because we didn't spend a lot of time on any one item — it was just sort of initiating ideas on which we could follow through. But we did talk about sharing of expertise. Some of their problems are our problems — in particular the bylaw dealing with peddlers and hawkers and chip trucks etc. — they're dealing with the same thing so we're going to work together on that, and perhaps the two primary municipalities can develop by-laws and objectives that are similar and thereby eliminate some competitive aspects in the county."

The health care debate, quite naturally, was raised. The provincial Ministry of Health (MOH) has recommended that acute care beds and services be consolidated at one of the two communities. The MOH has, however, left the decision as to where those beds will be located to a local committee, the Acting Health Services Board. Concern over the future of health care services in both communities has heightened a long existing rivalry between the two communities. The board recently recommended the acute care facilities should be located at the Haliburton Hospital with emergency services available at a Minden facility attached to Hyland Crest.

"We did talk about the hospital issue," said Anthon, "and both communities are very interested in working together to achieve the needs of our community. I said we have been elected to represent our people. We have

Health Board replacements chosen

by Jerry Grozelle

Two seasonal residents and one permanent resident of Haliburton County have been appointed to the Acting Health Services Board to replace the three people who resigned.

One of the seasonal residents is David Coulson, the consultant who co-ordinated the Coulson Report, a study of the health care system in the county. He is a cottager in the Gooderham area. The other seasonal representative on the committee is Luba Funston, a Miner's Bay cottager.

Bill McAfee, also of Gooderham area, is the permanent resident who has been named to the committee.

Communique

A draft newsletter prepared by the Acting Health Services Board was presented to the members for input before the final product is printed and circulated. The newsletter will be circulated with both local newspapers and copies will also be placed in doctors' offices, the two hospitals and distributed through cottagers' associations.

The newsletter is intended to enlighten the public regarding the progress that has been made on the health services front from the board's perspective.

60+ applications

More than 60 resumes have been received from across Canada for the position of executive director of the Haliburton Health Services Board.

The recruitment committee for the position will include board members Stuart Baker, Doug Think snow!

Despite the mild turn in the weather, organizers of the Minden Techni-Cal Challenge were still optimistic on Saturday that the event would go ahead this weekend. Race Governor, Val Lougheed noted that the forecast for the coming week called for below freezing temperatures and snow. "It's just a matter of how much we get and when it arrives," she commented.

"Naturally we would like to be going into this week not having to worry about the weather," she said. "There are enough other details involved in getting a race of this calibre up and running, without having the added concern about the weather. Since there is little we can do about the conditions, the committee is moving ahead and hoping for the best."

The final decision on the race will not be made until Wednesday at noon. "We'll spread the word as quickly as possible once it is made," Lougheed said. She also noted that if a postponement is necessary, the derby will be held February 4 & 5. A program outlining the derby activities is included with this week's edition of The Times. (If a postponement is necessary, the times indicated in the program will apply to the new dates.)

Judy and David will be featured at next children's concert

The second performance in the Haliburton County Children's Concert Series will take place at Archie Stouffer Elementary School, Minden, on Sunday, January 22, 1995 at 2 p.m. This performance, entitled "Judy & David" is sponsored by Minden Home Hardware and Building Supplies.

Judy and David launched their act just one year ago and are already being called Canada's "Hottest New Children's Entertainers" by the media. Last fall, Judy & David released their first children's recording, Jumpin' Up & Down. "Our first recording was really a labour of love...Our friends and family and many local teachers and parents had encouraged us to record some of our children's songs. We really had no idea what it would lead to," David says. What it led to was a recording deal within weeks. Under the deal the duo has produced an additional four cassettes sold together as "My Little Yellow Bus". Those recordings, filled with the same sparkle and friendly sing-along feel as Jumpin' Up & Down have been one of the most successful projects ever for the record company. The first shipment of 400,000 cassettes sold out within a few months. Based on this success, the company is now "going global" with Judy & David's music. Within the next few months, their children's songs will begin to appear in 12 different languages in 28 countries around the world.

While the music is making its way around the globe, Judy & David are still sticking close to home with their live concerts. "The Ontario audiences have been so appreciative, we hope to keep doing regular appearances here as long as possible," Judy says. Their secret?...Judy & David are part musical performers and part musical cheer leaders. They have a wonderful ability to get both kids and parents involved in the concerts, not as spectators, but as participants.

Their concerts include an eclectic mix of material to appeal to a wide variety of musical tastes. Original songs span the musical spectrum from the beautiful ballad "Rainbow Waiting For Me" to the pop stylings of "Choo Choo Train" or, believe it or not, "Rock n' Roll Matzah Ball." Judy and David's sense of joy and playfulness permeates everything they do and has helped them successfully reclaim some of the more traditional children's songs. For example, their funk adaptation of I'm a Little Teapot invariably has half the audience out of their seats doing the "Funky Teapot".

What is next for the duo? Judy and David are now developing a concert video/television special and are trying to keep pace with an ever-growing concert schedule. Expect to hear a lot more from these bright new rising stars.

Tickets for this performance are $8 each and are available at the door or you can purchase subscriptions for the three remaining concerts for just $15.

Versatile performers, Judy & David will be appearing this Sunday at Archie Stouffer Elementary School; the second in a series of children's concerts planned for this winter. Tickets are available at the door.

The organizers of the Concert Series suggest you give yourself a bit of extra time on January 22 to get to the school because the Minden Sled Dog derby is scheduled for that date. An alternative route via Scotch Line Road is suggested to avoid the downtown area. This detour will be signed on Highway 121 and 35 and along Highway 35 from the north and south.

New ambulance facilities open in both villages

Andrew Milne

Minden and Haliburton's new ambulance buildings are primarily the result of new provincial legislation concerning worker safety, says ambulance service manager Bill Higginson.

"The government did a review of the stations," says Higginson, "and under the new occupational health and safety legislation, neither of the old locations conformed, mainly in the amount of floor space since the garages weren't a suitable size to accommodate the vehicles that we're using, and they weren't equipped with the proper systems to monitor the carbon monoxide/carbon dioxide levels that we now have to contend with."

The legislation concerning workplace safety was passed in 1992.

Higginson manages the Orillia-Haliburton ambulance service. He has three ambulance bases — in Orillia, in Minden, and in Haliburton. The facilities the service had been using in Minden and in Haliburton had belonged to the respective municipal governments. The municipalities ran their own services prior to the Ministry of Health's taking them over.

The ministry had been leasing the buildings from the municipalities, and when the new legislation was passed it became clear that the facilities would have to be upgraded if the services were to continue using them. But the costs of doing so, says Higginson, would have been prohibitive for the municipipalities. So the Ministry put out a call for tenders.

The new Minden building was built by and belongs to Paul Heffer, who also runs the I.D.A. pharmacy in Minden. The Ministry leases it from him.

Higginson says the service had similar difficulties in Orillia.

"The ministry built a new facility for us in Orillia," he says, "but it's a ministry owned space that we had leased previously. We had been in there for 14 years. The same problems existed — we ended up in the last four years there having to move our offices to a trailer, because the space was just not adequate."

Gary Bloor, an ambulance officer with the Minden service, says he is much happier with the new building.

"These are power doors," he said, "they were installed to conform with the Labour Act. We have female attendants, and now we do have two washrooms. The old garages weren't long enough for the new vehicles. You must have a certain depth in order to be able to load and unload the stretcher for cleaning the vehicles... The old building was basically outdated, and there were safety considerations."

"It was a matter of the cost of improving the old one versus the cost of a new one," continues Bloor. "Either way the ministry is leasing (the building). One thing that people were saying is how can they afford a new ambulance building and not a new hospital? Well, the thing is they didn't build it. Someone else did."

Another feature of the new building, says Dave Dupre, also of the Minden unit, is that it is all on one floor, which eliminates the flight of stairs attendants formerly had to travel — sometimes in the middle of the night — to answer a call.

Higginson says the old buildings hadn't been upgraded in years. "The building was apparently built by the staff," says Higginson, "when it was a volunteer service. And the Haliburton one, though they didn't build it, they were in it as long as anyone can remember. There hadn't been any upgrading done to either one of those bases, other than a staircase that was put in at Minden."

Anson, Hindon and Minden officials say the old building will be used by the fire department to store equipment.

Anti-fraud senior planned

The Wilberforce and region police association is hosting a seminar on telephone fraud January 26, 1995 at the Lloyd Watson Centre in Wilberforce.

The seminar takes place at 7:30 pm, and is free of charge. Detective staff sergeant Barry Elliott of the OPP's Phonebusters anti-racket unit will be present.

Phonebusters was organized to combat telemarketing fraud — con operations in which the mark is solicited by phone. Many of these operations work by long distance, calling potential marks across the county. Elliott told the Times in November that telemarketing fraud operations were making somewhere between $80 million and $100 million per annum in 1991 and 1992. He believes his unit has been very successful in attacking the problem, reducing the take by about 50 percent in around two years of operation.

John Goverde, president of the police association, says that in Wilberforce, where there are a large number of retirees, telemarketing fraud is a serious concern.

February meeting will coordinate response to spousal abuse

Social agencies dealing with the abuse of women in Haliburton County are meeting in February to discuss common standards and accountability.

Jill Jones is coordinating the project, which is a joint initiative between the Haliburton County Committee Against the Abuse of Women and the Social Action Committee. The Ministry of Community and Social Services is sponsoring the process.

Says Jones, "It's on something called a community framework for services for abused women. Now, this is happening around the province, and it's an attempt to get the community and the social service agencies, anyone who works around the issue of violence against women, to sit down and talk through values and differences, and come up with a common, collective approach to dealing with the issue. It's also an attempt to make sure that each organization deals with things the same way and to get people working on it together."

The first part of the process, says Jones, will be a two-day workshop, which takes place February 10-11. The workshop is open to anyone and is free, though no location has yet been settled on.

"What we hope to come out of the workshop with," says Jones, "is not only some more open communication with the players in the community, but also a committee of sixteen people that will carry it on to develop a Haliburton County framework."

"The workshop itself is a series of different kinds of exercises and discussions designed to motivate service providers to talk to each other about what they do," says Jones.

Posters help promote sled dog derby

Once again this year, the students at Archie Stouffer Elementary School have provided a colourful display of posters for the Minden Sled Dog Derby. During the Christmas break, the posters were judged and the one submitted by grade 5 student Becky Wallace was judged to be the most interesting. As a result of the selection, Becky will be a participant in the Kid and Mutt race on Saturday and receive a number of other prizes. Prizes will also be awarded to the posters judged the most interesting in all grade levels. These results will be announced in next week's newspaper. The posters will be on display in store windows this week.

Campbell and Dwayne Lloyd, with Ken Wilson as an alternate if one of the others should be unable to participate. It was pointed out that there are no women from the board on the Recruitment Committee because none of them was available at the time when the interviews will be conducted.

Representatives from the Ministry of Health, the District Health Council and St. Joseph's Hospital will also participate in the selection process.

St. Joseph's Hospital will initially be responsible for three-fifths of the executive director's salary and he or she will work three days a week for St. Joseph's. The other two-fifths will be paid by the Acting Health Services Board, for which the board will get the new executive director's services two days a week.

Once the board is incorporated, the executive director will become a full-time employee of the Haliburton County

Health Services Board.

Earlier meetings

The board has decided to hold its meetings a half-hour earlier during the winter months. The rationale behind the time change is to allow board members an earlier departure from meetings and possibly a safer drive home during bad road conditions.

The next two meetings will be held in Haliburton Village at an as yet unnamed venue. The meetings will start at 7 p.m. instead of 7:30 as has been the case in the past.

Board development

The firm of Mowbury Frankum and Associates, of Cobourg, has been retained by the board to provide 27 hours of board development consulting services.

The firm has proposed three six-hour sessions and one nine-hour session over the course of four months.

great concerns in our community with medical facilities and what we might be left with, and we're going to express those concerns at council. Whatever we develop for our community does not mean we are attempting to take something away from another community. Any kind of movement on our part in Anson, Hindon and Minden should not be interpreted as taking something away from another municipality. The Dysart representatives agreed that's the principle with which we should be working."

"Aftercare is one of the most important services a funeral home can offer."

"Many people don't know where to turn after the loss of a loved one. Oftentimes, family and friends aren't sure what they can do or say to help. That's why we have formed a grief recovery group.

While a support group doesn't make problems disappear, it does give people a chance to talk with others who are experiencing similar emotions.

It's important that people find a way to express their grief and learn to deal with it. That's when the healing begins."

Camp Calumet zoning change not approved

Stanhope municipal council resolved January 11 not to approve a proposal by the shareholders of Camp Calumet to sever lake front lots from the camp's holdings, on the basis that the remaining package of land would not be large enough to qualify for commercial zoning.

The decision was made at a public meeting, with representatives from Camp Calumet present, and council took the action with the proviso that it would meet with representatives of the camp to come up with a solution that solves the problem. The representative present was amenable to this.

In other business, the council also struck down a proposed zoning amendment meant to resolve concerns related to a winter parking lot, and assembled a committee to work out terms for an entrepreneur who wishes to establish a flying school/charter air service at the Stanhope Municipal Airport. Regarding the former decision, ratepayers present at the meeting informed council that the parking lot, meant to handle vehicles belonging to cottagers wishing access to their lots when their road was not plowed, is no longer necessary, as many of the cottagers are plowing the road for their own purposes.

Community policing associations throughout Haliburton County were recipients of support funding provided by the Prudential Insurance Company. The presentations were made last week in Peterborough at the District OPP headquarters. At the time, associations throughout District 8 were presented with financial assistance. Among the Haliburton County groups were: Dorset, for improvements to the community policing office; Minden, for radio equipment and safety vests for use when assisting at community events; Wilberforce, to expand the communications system and for information seminars; Bicroft-Cardiff, for the printing of brochures;

Stanhope-Carnarvon, for a child identification clinic to be held at the annual Fun Day; and Haliburton, for radio equipment. The members of the associations who were able to attend the presentation, also had an opportunity to tour the mobile community policing office motor home, donated by the insurance company. The group included, from the left, John Goverde of the Wilberforce Community Policing Association, Constable Al Barnes, Marsha Fults of Bicroft-Cardiff, Constable Brian Ladurantaye, Gerda Goverde, Beth Vendenwildenberg both of Wilberforce, Linda Burley of Stanhope-Carnarvon and Constable Mike Landry.

Anson, Hindon and Minden council briefs

Items from the January 12 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council.

Sign permits

Public works superintendent Clayton Cameron was given the go-ahead to apply to the Ontario Ministry of Transportation for permits to erect Welcome to Minden signs. The municipality will pick up the tab for the permits ($175 for each of the two locations).

Application for one of the permits will have to be made through Lutterworth Township officials since the location of the southern sign on Highway 35 is in Lutterworth Township. Cameron will attend a Lutterworth council meeting to make the necessary arrangements.

Once the permits are obtained, there will be a six-month period in which to have the signs in place. The signs will be completed and ready to put up by spring.

No, thanks

Anson, Hindon and Minden council said thanks, but no thanks to a Ministry of Natural Resources offer to sell a building and property at the ministry complex in Minden. After brief discussion, council decided it would have no use for the property.

Snowmobile trail

AH&M council gave the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association (HCSA) the okay (subject to conditions) to use part of an unopened road allowance along the Minden-Dysart boundary as part of its trail system.

Among the conditions are that the HCSA must notify adjacent landowners that the trail is being opened. Council made it clear that the property is still controlled by the municipality and that the HCSA will have no right to require the purchase of a trail pass for snowmobilers to use that portion of the trail which lies on the unopened road allowance. Neither will the HCSA have any right to prohibit the use of that portion of trail by other potential users, such as cross country skiers or hikers.

The snowmobile club plans to clear the trail to a maximum of 12 feet wide.

Very generous

AH&M reeve Jeanne Anthon commended the Minden branch of the Royal Canadian Legion for its "very generous donation" of more than $800 for the purchase of kitchen equipment for the Minden arena.

Plugged in?

Responding to a verbal request from the Kinsmen Club of Minden, council agreed in principle to allow the club to have hydro service installed in the quonset building at the Minden Fairgrounds. The Kinsmen Club would be responsible for the cost of installation as well as the utility bills.

In return, the club would have use of the building for various construction projects.

The quonset is currently used primarily for storage.

Workshop on a Community Framework for Services for Abused Women in Haliburton County

February 10th and 11th, 1995

The goal of developing a Community Framework project is to find ways of helping our community work together to find the best means of collectively dealing with the issue of violence against women.

This workshop will bring together many different people in the Haliburton County community including community activists, agency workers who provide services to abused women, women who have been abused, people interested in the issue and many others.

We are excited and pleased to have two excellent facilitators who will guide participants through the workshop.

The workshop is being co-sponsored by the Haliburton County Committee Against the Abuse of Women (HCCAAB) and the Haliburton Social Action Committee (SAC). HCCAAB and SAC gratefully acknowledge the financial contribution of the Ministry of Community and Social Services (COMSOC).

The workshop will be free. Times and locations will be announced soon. For more information, or if interested in registering for the workshop, please call Lisa Kowalchuk at 286-4208 or Jill Jones at 454-9696.

Talking again

It isn't that they didn't talk before, it's just that the conversations were perhaps not as civil as those held last week between the councillors of Anson, Hindon and Minden and Dysart et al. We are heartened to hear that the civic leaders of the two largest municipalities in the county are discussing common problems and hopefully searching for common solution.

The meeting is an example that could set the tone for the coming three years. There are a number of serious challenges facing the county and region which will require understanding, cooperation and a willingness to appreciate and even support the other person's point of view. If the two largest municipalities can demonstrate a cooperative spirit, perhaps the problems which perplex and challenge us will not be as insurmountable they first appear.

So, hats off to Dysart council for initiating the meeting and a tip o' the hat to the Minden council for responding positively and suggesting future meetings.

Recipients say 'thanks' Confusion about what was said

Editor:

On the afternoon of December 22, several volunteer drivers came to the Minden Community Centre to deliver Christmas boxes to homes that could not come to get them. We loaded up the van of a driver and his wife and sent them off to seek out six local homes. They returned in an hour and a quarter with an envelope addressed to the Leonards. Inside was a beautifully decorated homemade card expressing appreciation for what was received. Within the hour three more cards arrived containing thanks. When we arrived home, the answering machine had more than you're waiting to be heard. Those expressions of appreciation are meant for all who donated money or gifts or food, for those who wrapped, sorted, carried and delivered, for those who helped with the administrative duties of such an operation.

Those of us here at the CSSM are only the bridge between those who give and those who receive. Thank you for allowing us the privilege of serving in this way.

For the 1994 Christmas Season, 127 homes received an ample box full of food for the family and gifts for children. This represents 200 adults and 195 children, a slightly higher number than 1993.

May you have a splendid 1995. Your very generous donations went a long way to making this season a joyous one.

Gratefully,

Louise Leonard
CSSM Christmas Boxes.

Editor:

Since only about 60 of us wrote to the minister about TVO, and so many of us have been publicly griping about the answer received, there must be a few wondering what it was that so raised our hackles....

Well, since it's the same standard form letter sent to all, including my eight year old granddaughter, why not publish it? That way the assistant minister doesn't have to send out any more letters. She can, from now on, completely ignore all those who may decide to write to her.

When my granddaughter received her letter -- oh, about two months after mine -- she looked at me and asked: "Gramma, I don't understand...Do 75% or 97% of the people get TVO fuzzy too?"

No, dear, the letter's fuzzy.

Marjaana Young,
Minden.

(The following is the response that Marjaana Young and others received from the Assistant Deputy Minister of Culture, Tourism and Recreation.)

Dear Ms. Young:

Thank you for your letter supporting TVOntario and the need for access for TVOntario programming in the Haliburton area. The Minister, Anne Swarbrick has asked me to respond directly to you.

TVO is available to 97% of Ontario's population while La Chaine is available to 75%. Our goal, of course, is that it be available to all residents in Ontario. Unfortunately, financial constraints currently stand in our way of realizing this goal.

Funding for additional transmitters for TVOntario represents not only a substantial one-time capital expense, but a long-term financial commitment. We continue to review options for overcoming these obstacles in order to provide increased services.

Access to TVOntario programming is a high priority to the Minister, the ministry and the Board of Directors.

Thank you for your continuing support for TVOntario.

Jane Marlatt,
Assistant Deputy Minister,
Culture Division

Is the registration of all firearms the panacea Justice Minister Rock preaches?

by Jerry Grozelle

Don't be fooled into believing that federal Justice Minister Allan Rock's proposal to register all firearms in Canada will make life safer for Canadians. The registration of rifles and shotguns will do nothing to curb the illegal use of firearms.

The only segment of society that will receive any direct benefit from the proposed legislation is the criminal element. Criminals already know that it is relatively safe to break into the home of any law-abiding citizen in the nation because those who do have firearms must keep them locked in one container and the ammunition locked and stored somewhere else. Even the slowest of B&E artists would be able to break down your door long before you could get a firearm out of its container and loaded.

The criminal can also take comfort in the fact that if the home owner happens to have a Louisville Slugger handy and beans him when he steps over the threshold of the battered down door, the "justice system" of this country will step in and make sure that said home owner is suitably punished for defending his or her personal wellbeing and property. The penalty for such unsavoury behaviour is usually much more swift and severe than the punishment for breaking and entering.

The criminal element is undoubtedly rubbing its collective hands together in glee in anticipation of registration of all firearms. When this system is completed, all it will take is a connection in the registry system (any one of potentially hundreds of people with access to the government's computer network) to compile a "shopping list" of the most valuable firearms anywhere in the country. Addresses, down to the lot and concession of those who live in rural areas, would make life much easier for organized criminals to locate their potential victims.

People who work in the civil service are no more susceptible to greed than any other segment of society. But, people with access to that type of information could be placed at risk of harm to themselves or their families if they refused to co-operate. Criminals have been known to be very "persuasive" when it comes to getting what they want.

The track record of those entrusted with the responsibility of keeping the national secrets of this country safe offers little comfort to those who would be forced to trust their firearms information to a government registry.

And what about the expense associated with setting up and maintaining a firearms registry?

A report on the proposed legislation by the Law and Government Division of the Library of Parliament states: "Another layer of substantial controls would require equally significant -- and in the case of some proposals such as universal firearms registration, infinitely greater -- time, institutional energy and financial resources to implement."

The report goes on to say: "It would be difficult to justify the diversion of a greater share of the shrinking resources available for law enforcement in order to implement further gun control measures. Public safety will only be further endangered if law enforcement authorities are forced to spread their resources too thinly in order to enforce new gun control laws and administer new regulatory programs involving firearms, including those which are legally-owned and used for legitimate purposes."

Does Allan Rock really care about curbing violence and saving lives, some people are asking? Doesn't he know the universal registration of firearms in Canada won't save any lives?

Sure he does. He isn't stupid. Unfortunately, he seems to believe that he will get more votes by including registration with his law reform package than focusing on the common sense solutions directed at the criminal element.

It has been mandatory to register all handguns for decades. Has that reduced the incidence of the use of handguns in the commission of violent crimes?

To be effective, any new laws must be directed at curbing the activities of criminals and making the penalties fit the crimes. Spending an estimated $400,000 to $600,000 per year on an ineffective registration system would not only be wasteful, it would be irresponsible. If the government has that much money to spend, it would be more effectively used if it were directed toward preventing and punishing criminal activity through education and more enforcement.

Mr. Rock could start by making Canada less of a safe-haven for the rest of the world's criminals. He might also think about tightening up the parole system. He needs to send a clear message that violence won't be tolerated and back that message up with penalties that will be a deterrent.

The return of capital punishment would not only serve as a deterrent, it would eliminate the risk of repeat offenses.

If Allan Rock doesn't have enough faith in the judicial system to trust it to convict the guilty and acquit the innocent, it's time that system had an overhaul.

Only when violent criminals are dealt with swiftly and with authority will violent crime decrease.

Universal registration will not make life any safer for Canadians

No ifs, ands or butts

My all-time favourite quote about the cigarette business appeared last year in Rolling Stone magazine. It came from the lips of David Dangoor, executive vice president of Philip Morris International:

"I'll tell you what I like about the business...there are no surprises. There is nothing more to be said or to be discovered about the cigarette business or the industry. And there is no way to write an article that could do us more harm than what has already been written."

Mister Dangoor is, alas, correct. Everyone knows that smoking is like playing Russian Roulette with five bullets in the chamber instead of one. Tobacco executives wave an impatient hand when you remind them that the product they sell can leave customers with lung, lip and tongue cancer, heart disease, emphysema and a host of other fatal afflictions. So cigarettes are more addictive than heroine. So 35,000 Canadians will die this year from smoking related illnesses. So cigarettes have killed more North Americans than all the enemy bombs and bullets of all the wars of the twentieth century put together.

So what?

So will that be regular or king-size? Plain or menthol? Full flavour or light?

They never give up, the Death Merchants. They never tire of finding new ways to entice new sets of lungs to sample their wares. Twenty years ago their statistics revealed that North American women weren't smoking nearly as much as men. Tobacco advertisers re-adjusted their sights and came up with feminine cigarettes such as Virginia Slims. Result: two decades later, women smokers almost match men smokers in the lung cancer department.

You've come a long way, ladies.

The latest attempt to find new smokers is aimed at the younger set. (Which only makes sense. After all, the older smokers keep dying off on them.) The newest smoking sortie is to be a product called Dave.

You read right -- Philip Morris is right now test marketing a cigarette called Dave in the Denver area. It is, say the marketers, aimed at "hip, image-conscious smokers".

Which is bafflegab for teenagers.

Which reminds me of my second-favourite cigarette business anecdote -- a story told by David Goerlitz. You might not recognize the name, but you'd recognize the face -- ruggedly Hollywoodian, granite jawed, gimlet-eyed.

Goerlitz was a model who appeared in many cigarette ads for the R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company.

In the tobacco advertising business, David Goerlitz was known as The Winston man.

Goerlitz told the story of one cigarette commercial photo shoot at which several Reynolds executives were present. The session involved dozens of shots of Goerlitz looking he-mannish and intrepid with a lit cigarette in his mitt and cartons of Winstons scattered all over the set.

There were dozens and dozens of cartons. When it was over, Goerlitz asked rather timidly if he might take one or two of the cartons home with him.

"Hell," said one of the tobacco executives, "take 'em all."

Goerlitz wasn't a greedy man. Surely the executives wanted some too. They smoked themselves, didn't they?

"Are you kidding?" sneered the executive. "We reserve that right for the poor, the young, the black and the stupid."

So there you are. If you smoke, by all means go ahead and enjoy yourself.

But don't ever forget what the people who make the cigarettes think of you.

Makes me think that the tobacco advertising geniuses may be off-base with this new Dave line of cigarettes. Oh, the idea is good -- nice short punchy name. They've just got the wrong letters, that's all.

Shouldn't call the new cigarettes Dave.

Should call them Dumb.

World's largest event of its kind

Legion Bantams win B division title at Minden tournament

by Jerry Grozelle

A come-from-behind 3-2 win gave the Minden Legion Bantam B Monarchs the B division championship of their own hockey tournament on January 7.

The Minden boys took on Wilberforce in the opening game of the tournament at the Minden arena. Wilberforce won that game by a 3-1 margin.

Wilberforce got on the scoreboard first with the only goal of the first period. Ricky Huffman was the marksman, from Leonard Dewey and Jeremy Townsend.

Jason Kasepchuk notched the equalizer for Minden in the second frame, with an assist going to Steve Hutchinson.

The score remained deadlocked at 1-1 throughout the rest of the second and into the third before Wilberforce went ahead 2-1. Townsend notched what proved to be the game winner, from Ricky Huffman and Dennis Morgan. Paul Huffman added one more to the Wilberforce tally for the 3-1 win. Dewey assisted on the third goal.

Rebounding from the loss to Wilberforce, the Legion boys edged Sutton 2-1 in their next game, to earn a berth in the B championship.

Sutton drew first blood with a goal at the 3:44 mark of the first period. The Monarchs tied the score with 36 seconds left in the opening frame. Matt Cheeseman was the sniper, with Kasepchuk assisting.

Minden went ahead 2-1 at the 3:20 mark of the second period. Cheeseman notched his second of the game, assisted by Kirk Smith.

the goal, from Cheeseman and Philip Daniels. With 47 seconds left in the second period, Jason Horsley knotted the score at 2-2. The Minden boys kept the Thirty-six seconds later, Minden was in front 3-2. The Monarchs got control of the puck in their own end, catching the Manvers team off guard. Smith culminated the ensuing rush by beating the Manvers netminder. Cheeseman and Daniels assisted on the game winner.

Neither team could get one by the opposition's goaltender in the third period as Minden clung to the one-goal lead for the B division championship win.

There were some anxious minutes at both ends of the rink during the third period. Smith had the Manvers goalie beat with a shot with two and a half minutes left in the third, but the shot rattled off the crossbar. Then, with 1:32 left in the third, Cory Bull took a tripping penalty, giving Manvers the power play. But even with the man advantage, Manvers was unable to tie the game.

The C division title went to Cannington with a win over Sutton in the final and Stouffville won the A division title by beating Wilberforce in the final.

Scott Gartshore, coach of the Minden bantam B team, said that he was happy with the way the tournament was run.

"It went really smoothly," he said. "We had a lot of help from parents and friends of the players. Everything turned out quite well."

STANDING TALL: Legion Bantam A goaltender Shane Flood stands up to the opposition during the B championship final of the Minden Bantam B Tournament on January 7. Manvers took a 2-0 lead in this game but the Monarchs rebounded to grab the B division hardware with a 3-2 win.

The third period was scoreless.

Manvers took control of the game early in the second period of the B championship final. Two quick Manvers goals, the first of which was a short-handed marker, put the Monarchs behind the eight ball.

The Legion boys got one back at the 3:47 mark of the middle frame. A shot from the point through traffic in front of the Manvers net found the mesh, cutting the Manvers lead to 2-1. Smith scored pressure on in front of the Manvers net. The puck came out to Horsley in the slot and he fired it past the Manvers goalie. Kasepchuk and Curtis Barry assisted on the equalizer.

UNDER CONTROL:

Minden's tyke B team, which has been dubbed the Mighty Mites by coach Greg Carpenter, has won all of its first four games in a convincing fashion. During the January 8 game in Minden, against Manvers, a Minden defender is seen here taking control of the situation in his own end, one of the few times Manvers managed to get it over Minden's blue line. The Mighty Mites won this game by an 11-1 score.

"Mighty Mites" on a roll with four wins

by Jerry Grozelle

Learning the basics and several weeks of practice before getting into competition have paid big dividends for the Minden Special Effects tyke B Monarchs hockey team.

Coach Greg Carpenter prefers to call his team mites rather than tykes... "The Minden Mighty Mites," he says with a grin.

Carpenter has good reason to be proud of his team's accomplishments. The Mighty Mites didn't start playing against other teams until December. In their first four games, the Special Effects team has scored a total of 40 goals and allowed the opposition just five replies.

You might think the Minden team has a red hot goaltender with such a good goals-against average. But that isn't the case. In fact, the team doesn't have a regular goaltender. Everybody takes a shift or two between the pipes every game. They don't even use goalie equipment. Guarding in net for the Mighty Mites can be a lonely task at times.

The Mighty Mites don't need a great goalie. The opposition doesn't spend a lot of time in the Minden end. Offense is the key to Minden's success.

The first game of the season for the Minden boys was an exhibition contest against Haliburton. That was the closest game of their first four for the Mighty Mites. Haliburton bowed by a 5-2 score in that game.

A regular season game against Haliburton had a much more lopsided outcome as Minden skated away with a 17-1 victory.

Ops also felt the bite of the Minden team, giving up a 7-1 decision to the Mighty Mites.

The team from Manvers came to Minden for a game on January 8 to try its luck against the Special Effects squad. The final score of that game was 11-1 in favour of the host team.

Gavin Hicks and Travis Walker provided the lion's share of the scoring punch for the Minden team. Hicks scored four times and assisted on two more, while Walker netted a hat trick and one assist. Justin McKelvey, Jacob Crowe, Wade Woodward and Jason Lougheed scored one apiece. McKelvey and Crowe had two assists each, with single helpers going to Derek Carpenter, Lougheed, Woodward and Robert Lowes.

Barrie sled dog race

Lougheed family of 4 finishes in the money

The Lougheed family from Gelert got a taste of early season sled dog competition January 7 and 8 near Barrie. Steve and Val Lougheed and their two sons Jesse, 13 and Caleb, 11 all finished in the money in the Copeland Forest Sled Dog Race. The event was one of the first of the season. It was sanctioned by the International Sled Dog Racing Association.

Along with the prize money, all four family members picked up pro points for their efforts.

Steve Lougheed finished fourth among 30 competitors in the eight-dog event, while Val took sixth place. This was Val's first race in the eight-dog class.

The four-dog class saw 52 drivers vying for the prize money and points toward the season total. The Lougheed boys represented half of the kids who competed in the class along with the adults. Only two of those 52 drivers finished ahead of Jesse, who brought home third place overall. Caleb was sixth in the event, showing that he can compete with the best of them as well.

Placings were decided according to racers' times over the two heats, one each day.

The Barrie event, which featured international calibre racers, was a good warm-up for the Minden Sled Dog Derby, which is scheduled for this coming weekend.

Central Ontario peewee Wolves on the prowl

by Bill Kulas

After a mediocre start to their 1994-95 season, the Central Ontario AAA major peewee Wolves played havoc with the competition throughout the month of December.

Including a contingent of three local players on the roster (Ken Ablett of Wilberforce at centre; Dan Jordan on defense and Nick Kulas at right wing, both from Minden) the Wolves put the bite on their foes.

Regular season action saw the Wolves, who are based in Lindsay, win six straight games. Included among those wins were victories over Oshawa, Ajax-Pickering, two over Whitby as well as a 5-3 win over the Peterborough Petes and a 4-0 shutout against Richmond Hill.

The Christmas holidays didn't mean a time out for the Wolves. They participated in the 17th annual Chatham Minor Hockey Friendship Tournament December 27, 28 and 29.

The team was up for the challenge, defeating Chatham 5-3; Windsor 5-2; and Brantford 8-2 for three straight wins in the early going. The win over Brantford, the team the Wolves would face in the major peewee championship final two days later, saw the Haliburton County connection play a big role. Ablett scored a natural hat trick and Kulas contributed a pair of goals, while powerplay specialist Jordan helped the cause with four assists.

On December 29, the Wolves started their run for the championship by defeating West Michigan 6-1 in a very physical and chippy contest at the Chatham Memorial Complex.

That win advanced the Wolves to the semifinal against the host team. The result was a 6-2 victory for the Wolves.

With those two gruelling games under their belts, the local boys went on to play Brantford, Wayne Gretsky's old home team, for the championship.

Victory was sweet for the Wolves as they won the championship by a convincing 5-2 margin over Brantford to cap the three-game day.

License validation expires on your birth date

If you're an individual vehicle registrant, did you know your plate validation sticker expires on your birthday, not the end of the month shown on the sticker? The fine for driving with an expired validation sticker is $90.00, so give yourself an extra birthday present this year and make sure your licence plate sticker is renewed by your birthdate.

Addiction dooms us all

I am a drug addict and for 12 years I was slave to the addiction. It cost me thousands of dollars and no doubt affected my health and the well-being of my family.

My addiction was tobacco and though I haven't smoked for over 20 years, just one cigarette would hook me again. I know because I tried giving up smoking several times only to start again and each time with the rationalization "only one won't hurt." Starting from the occasional bummed cigarette, I gradually worked up to a pack-a-day habit. From a social smoker, I graduated to puffing with breakfast coffee.

My son tormented me by snatching cigarettes out of my mouth and breaking them in two or putting whole pack under the tap. He kept it up, risking my angry response, until I realized that because he loved me, he was terrified that I was harming myself. For his sake, I had to give it up.

In many ways, my long nicotine addiction resembles our current obsession with consumption. Ever since the mighty economic engine created by the Second World War was forced to adjust to peace, advertising has been used to convince us that consumption brings happiness. We have been democratized into the all-inclusive class of "consumer", now a key component in the economy.

Like the tobacco plant that has occupied a special place in many cultures for its medicinal properties and ceremonial role, consumption is vital in our lives too. We work to be able to purchase what we need for our physical and social needs. But when consumption, like smoking, becomes an uncontrollable need, a reflex habit, it is transformed into something else. On rare occasions, when I had to go hours without a cigarette, I desperately longed for a puff and the first drag was heavenly. But the pleasure was fleeting and soon followed by a dull need for more, just like shopping. Store hopping is becoming a social and recreational activity and our addiction to it is perfect for business that wants a limitless market.

When I was a boy, my parents bought clothes with an eye to handing them down, child to child. They were proud when a coat served two or three children. But durable products pose a problem--when they last, the market is eventually saturated. And in the madness that passes as today's accepted economic wisdom, endless growth--an impossibility in a finite world--is considered essential for survival. A solution to dwindling markets was the introduction of disposable products sold by the promise of "convenience." When an item is used once and thrown away, the market is endless.

Long-term balance and stability are achieved by reaching a steady state of equilibrium in Nature, but are regarded as lethal in the economic realm. With no value placed on sustainability of communities or ecosystems, the economy holds people to ransom by governments' fickle funding or transnational corporations' threats to move to where the economic climate is better.

Business leaders tell us that they only make "what the consumer demands".

Nonsense. More than half our purchases in hardware, grocery and department stores are spur of the moment decisions, made when products have caught our attention and created a desire.

I often discover something new and think, "Gee what a great idea! I need one of those", and buy it. Who among us has demanded 200 varieties of breakfast cereal that now vie for our attention? Wasteful packaging merely serves to entice us to buy what is inside, not serve our needs.

Only a few generations ago, when people lived with far less of everything, consumption beyond vital need was a luxury. People worked and saved and savoured the anticipation of a purchase. Today, most consumption is for non-essential merchandise, which like the first hit of nicotine, only provides a momentary kick, then leaves us wanting more.

Magazines inform us that more and more North Americans are seeking spiritual fulfilment. Our vaguely felt emptiness is a symptom of our isolation and disconnection from other people and species.

Disappearances of family, community, stability, security and spiritual sense of connection cannot be compensated by accumulation of more trinkets, novelty and titillation.

This economy, with its emphasis on endless production and consumption has become one of the most destructive forces ever unleashed on the planet and lured us into participation as over-consumers.

Just as my son worried about my smoking, children today are alarmed at how we are mortgaging their futures in our mistaken belief that we must have continued economic growth and ever more things to be happy. If our addictive assumptions and habits harm our children's futures, it's time to kick them.

Acid rain report

The following report on acid precipitation was recorded at the Ministry of Environment and Energy site near Dorset and compiled by Environment Canada.

This report covers the period December 27 - January 7:

Dec. 27: 1 mm of mixed rain and snow with a pH of 4.1, tracked from southern Michigan and Lake Huron.

Dec. 28: 1 mm of mixed snow and rain with a pH of 4.1, tracked from southern Michigan and Lake Huron.

Jan. 1: 4 cm of snow with a pH of 4.5, tracked from Lake Huron

Jan. 2: 5 cm of snow with a pH of 4.5, tracked from northern Michigan and Lake Huron.

Jan. 3: 6 cm of snow with a pH of 4.9, tracked from northern Michigan and Lake Huron.

Jan. 4: 15 cm of snow with a pH of 4.8, tracked from northern Michigan and Lake Huron.

Jan. 5: 4 cm of snow with a pH of 5.1 tracked from northwestern Ontario, Lake Superior and Lake Huron.

Jan. 6: 10 cm of snow with a pH of 4.8, tracked from Illinois, Indiana, southern Michigan and Lake Huron.

Jan. 7: 6 cm of snow with a pH of 4.7, tracked from southern Michigan and southwestern Ontario.

Environmental damage to lakes and streams is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH readings of less than 4.7. pH readings less than 4.0 are considered serious.

Around the County Town

by Jeanne Sears (call 286-1538)

Don't forget the annual meeting and dinner of the Minden Agricultural Society (sponsors of the Haliburton County Fair) to be held Friday, January 27 at 7 p.m. For ticket information call 286-1158 or 488-2613.

Club 35 euchre game winners for January 9 included Helen Henderson with most lone hands, Betty Matthews and Norm Lee with the highs, Olive Daniels, Jim Bradbury and May Bradbury. Special prizes went to Eleanor Bunker and Jim Bradbury and the 50-50 draw to Ken Wallace.

The January 8 high/low house league competition at Carnarvon Bowl, winners were 1. Mervin Bunker and Peggy Kelly (+ 108). 2. Marlene Robinson and Amanda Robinson (+ 30) and 3. George Hamilton and Jean Stead (+ 24) with high single flat, 313, to Ken Thompson and the hidden score going to John Lubowitz and Verna Sawyer who tied.

Good wishes to the following reportedly on the sick list: Chic Minaker, Irma Little, Ivan Francis, Eleanor Young, Bob Vick and Gladys Reid. Hope you are all improving.

Here, at The Terrace, most folks are fairly well. We enjoyed a New Year's party with some games, a singsong and a buffet table. Good wishes were exchanged for 1995. On January 6 our monthly potluck displayed its usual variety of food and included a cake for the birthday people. The enjoyment was added to by Bill Payne and the Grandfathers. Sunday, January 8 we watched the video "Jesus" recalling his lifetime and religious teachings up to his death and resurrection. We are certainly fortunate to have this fine building for us to live in and to enjoy so many good times together.

Weekly afternoon euchre game winners at St. Paul's on January 9 included Hazel Austen with most lone hands, Betty Hardy and Pearl Cowen. Elli Langpohl won the 50-50 draw. The games take place every Monday at 1:30 p.m. and are a good way to spend a winter afternoon with a very pleasant group.

Sincere sympathy to the family and friends of the late Gertrude McKay of Kinmount who passed away recently.

January 10 the Legion Branch 636 Seniors played bid euchre with a moonshot going to Marg McAfee while other winners were Jack Chilton, Ida Young and Anne Baker. These games are held weekly at 1:30 and everyone is welcome to attend.

Stanhope bridge game winners for January 10 included Helen Rice, Russ Fair and Dorothy Strype. Why not try joining this group for a game or two? Everyone is welcome and no partners required.

Euchre game winners at Lochlin Centre on January 10 included Mervin Gilbert and Lois Peters with the highs, Orval Hicks, Betty Hicks and most lone hands to Isabell Sanders. Next games at Lochlin will be January 24 starting at 7:30 p.m. with everyone welcome.

Weekly bid euchre game results from Stanhope, Lottie Ruttan had a moonshot and other winners were Marian Hill, Jean Scadden, Ida Young, Stan Hill, Bill Matthews and Pat Scadden. Hidden score went to Helen Windsor. This group also welcomes folks to come out and try their luck starting at 7 p.m. Wednesday evenings.

Coming events are the Minden Sled Dog Derby on January 21 and 22; County Town Museum meeting at Library/Cultural Centre on January 25 and the Lions Winter Carnival on January 28 and 29 with events for all.

CARDS OF THANKS

I would like to thank everyone for their prayers, calls, visits, cards and gifts while I was in hospital and since I've come home. Special thanks to my wife and family for their love and support and being there at the time of my surgery. A special thanks to Larry for taking us back and forth so many times to Kingston. Thanks again everyone.

The Minden Legion Bantam B's would like to thank all those persons and businesses who helped make our tournament a great success. Thanks to: Annie Kelly, Kathy Magee, Doug Sills, valu mart, Kawartha Dairy, Spot
97, The Art Gallery, Dollo's
IGA, Subway, Breadboard & Sweet Shop and also to those who donated to the "Coffee Fund" jar at valu mart (it is also for Minor hockey). Although these businesses are "hit" over and over again for donations, they managed to say "yes" again.
Also thanks to Moms, Dads, family members and friends who worked so hard to help.

Thanks,
Scott, Earl, Wayne and the Bantam B Boys.

The family of the late Allen (Bunt, Sam) Rogers would like to express heartfelt thanks for all the many acts of kindness, all the uplifting and special messages and visits, the food gifts and the many jobs done for us during Sam's illness. To our friends at Zion and Minden United Churches, the Yahoo group, the 10 o'clock coffee group and the Minden Masonic Order, we were touched by your love and prayers, thank you.
Special thanks must go to VON's Anne McNaul and Kim Ballentine, homemaker Shirley Masson, Dr. Tina Stephenson,
Dr. Aoife Conway and especially Elaine Jackson for the exceptional care we received.
To Rev. Peter Walford-Davis and his wife Barbara, thanks is not enough for all the comfort, care and encouragement we experienced. The memorial service was truly a celebration of Sam's life and to all who spoke, to piper Earl Cooper, the combined Zion and Haliburton choirs, Melissa Stephens, the Zion U.C.W. who provided lunch afterwards and the Minden U.C.W. who provided food later at our home, a sincere thank you for making it special. A final thank you to Gordon Monk and family for their caring and continuing assistance.

It was a long and difficult journey but a loving, caring community supported us every step of the way through his illness and death. May God bless you all.

The family of Allen (Sam)
Rogers.

...good habits should be cultivated, bad ones ploughed un-

IN MEMORIAM

SAWYER, Josephine - In loving memory of a dear mother, grandmother and great-grandmother who passed away January 18, 1994.

Those we love we never lose,
For always they will be,
Loved, remembered, treasured,
Always in our memory.
Sadly missed by daughter
Deloris, grandchildren Laurie,
Tim, Randy, Sherry and Scott, great-grandchildren Leea, Amber, Matthew and Dallyn.

MINTO, Helen - In loving memory of a dear mother, grandmother and best friend who passed away ten years ago January 13th.

We prayed that you would not suffer
That God would take you in
We hoped your life with us would last,
But fate was not to win.

We cherished every moment and
All the years we spent with you
And anyone who knew you well
Will miss you as we do.
To a dear woman who always wore a smile and could pass it on to you.

Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by Ian, Mary, Jennifer and Jim.

IN MEMORIAM

JOHNSTON, Alvin Carl - In loving memory of a dear little son and brother who died accidentally January 16, 1964 in his 7th year.

"I'll lend you for a little time this child of mine." He said,
"For you to love the while he lives and mourn for when he's dead."

It may be six or seven years,
whatever it may be,
But I know you'll take good care of him for me.

He'll bring his little charms to gladden you;
And should his stay be brief,
You'll have his loving memory
As solace for your grief.
I cannot promise he can stay
As all from earth return,
But there are lessons taught down there

I want this child to learn.
I've looked the wide world over,
In my search for teachers true,
And from the throng that crowds
life's lane

I have selected you.
I know you'll give this child all your love

And not think the labour vain
And not hate me when I come to call,

To take him back again.
I fancied that I heard you say,
'Dear Lord, They will be done,
For all the joy little Alvin will bring

The risk of great ill I'll run.
We'll shelter him with tenderness

We'll love him while we may
For the happiness we have known,

Forever grateful stay;
But shall the angels call our darling

Much sooner than we planned
We'll try to brave the bitter grief that comes

And try to understand'.
Sadly missed and dearly loved,
by Mom, brother and sisters.
